HONOR ROLL A, 2ND QUARTER
Ajani Abreu

I LOVE YOU, O LORD, MY STRENGTH. O Lord, my rock, my fortress, my deliverer, My God, my rock of refuge, my shield, the horn of my salvation, my stronghold! Praised be the Lord, I exclaim, and I am safe from my enemies.

Psalm XVIII:1-4

MISSIONARY DISCIPLE OF THE WEEK

SAINT PETER DAMIAN, CARDINAL, DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH
FEAST DAY: 21 FEBRUARY

Saint Peter Damian was born in 1007 in Ravenna. His parents died and so he was left in the care of a religious brother who treated him more like a slave. Another brother, seeing this, decided to take Peter himself, to care for and his kindness caused St. Peter to adopt the brother's last name, "Damian" as his own.

Growing up, he proved to be quite bright and an earnest student. Living with religious brothers, he learned about fasting and prayer at an early age. He was also very charitable and gave away much alms for the poor and sick.

As a young man, Peter felt the call to a monastic life as monk. He was to join a very strict order of St. Benedict. During his early days in a monastery he turned to learn the Sacred Studies, and became well-versed in Holy Scripture. Reluctantly, but under obedience he was asked take on a leadership position within the hermitage of his monastery. He was very good in modeling and encouraging his fellow monks in the virtues of charity, solitude and humility. He also founded five other hermitages during this time.

In 1057, Pope Stephen IX asked him to take the position of cardinal-bishop of Ostia. St. Peter was never happy with this appointment and always sought to be excused in order to return to his hermitage.

Also of note, during his lifetime, St. Peter Damian also had a devotion to Our Blessed Mother. He is attributed for us offering devotions to Our Lady on Saturdays. He wrote much on the importance of morality and discipline, always practicing within himself what he preached. His writing style and tone was stern but even so, was received well by clergy and religious. He even once rebuked a bishop for playing a game of chess stating that this amusement was unworthy. He wrote numerous letters on many subjects such as sin, confession, the spiritual life, virtue, etc.

After a trip to his home monastery in Ravenna, as he was beginning his trip back to Rome, he contracted a severe fever, which caused his death eight days later on 22 February 1072.
