FORMED Film of The Week
Saint Philip Neri

An epic feature film on the famous "Apostle of Rome" and great friend of youth in the 16th century. One of the most popular saints... St. Philip Neri was widely known for his great charity, deep prayer life, and tremendous humor. Providence instead guided Philip to seek out the poor and abandoned youth of Rome to catechize them in the faith and help them find a better life. He became the founder of the religious congregation, the Oratory, that worked with the youth...

Week Eighteen Selection

Bishop Venerable Fulton J. Sheen

ON "SLOTH"

EXCERPT FROM "VICTORY OVER VICE"

Sloth is a malady of the will that causes us to neglect our duties. Sloth may be physical or spiritual. It is physical when it shows itself in laziness, procrastination, idleness, softness, indifference, and nonchalance. It is spiritual when it shows itself in an indifference to character betterment, a distaste for the spiritual, a hurried crowding of devotions, lukewarmness, and failure to cultivate virtue.

Of such indifference to our duty our Lord spoke in the book of Revelation: "But because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold, nor hot, I will begin to vomit thee out of my mouth."

The life and teaching of our Lord lend no support to the slothful man. When yet only twelve years of age, He speaks of being about His "Father's business," which was nothing less than redeeming the world...

Beginning His public life with calloused hands, He preached the Gospel of work: "I must work the works of Him that sent me, whilst it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." His whole life, in His own words, was spent not in receiving, but in giving: "The Son of Man is not come to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life as a redemption for many."

The business of salvation is no easy task. There are two roads through this world and two gates into the future life. "Enter ye in at the narrow gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many go in thereat. How narrow is the gate, and strait is the way that leadeth to life; and few there are that find it!"
