QUOTE OF THE WEEK

“Have you strayed from the path leading to Heaven? Then call on Mary, for her name means ‘Star of the Sea, the North Star which guides the ships of our souls during the voyage of this life,’ and she will guide you to the harbor of eternal salvation.”

Louis-Marie Grignion de Montfort

“sea.” God saw that it was good.

THEN GOD SAID: Let the water under the sky be gathered into a single basin, so that the dry land may appear. And so it happened: the water under the sky was gathered into its basin, and the dry land appeared. God called the dry land “earth,” and the basin of water he called

MISSIONARY DISCIPLE OF THE WEEK

ST. LOUIS-MARIE GRIGNION DE MONTFORT
FEAST DAY: FRIDAY, 28 APRIL

St. Louis was born in 1673 in a small town in France. The family lived frugally in a two-story house. His father was stern and violent at times; Louis and his family would suffer often from his unpredictable anger. Louis would grow to be have similar qualities of hot-bloodedness, hardiness and athleticism, while at the same time a great inclination towards goodness, prayerfulness, kindness, and unselfishness. “But, by the grace of God, Montfort was to be hard only upon himself. His energy was used to gain absolute self-control.” (Source: Louis-Marie Grignion de Montfort by George Rigault) At age 13, he entered a Jesuit secondary school, where he lived with his uncle who was priest there. After his time there, he was to be educated at the School St. Sulpice (an order devoted to educating priests). He was an unusual student in that he was uninterested in talking about anything that wasn’t divine or from Scripture. He was humble, obedient, and an excellent student of theology, but he preferred to keep to himself and not engage in activities that were not strictly religious, or devotional. It was at this young age between secondary school and the School of St. Sulpice that he would develop a great devotion to our Blessed Mother. As a matter of fact, at St.

Sulpice, he formed an “association of the slaves in Mary. It would be later on that he would write the True Devotion to the Blessed Virgin, that even today, it is a much-read book on devotion and consecration to our Blessed Mother Mary.

Throughout his life, St. Louis would be very misunderstood by his peers, superiors and other men of the cloth who would ridicule him, persecute and even cast him out of their parishes and dioceses. His was a man in love with Jesus through the Blessed Mother. He wouldn’t fully be appreciated until after his death which was in 1716.
